

The Path of The Prophets'

"Our planet, as we have known it, is rapidly disappearing. If we are to save ourselves and this magnificent home we are so utterly dependent upon, we need to become a global society, awake and aware, and willing to work together in a new atmosphere of love, responsibility and higher consciousness."

Schim Schimmel

Today, many light-workers are seeking a new way to reach fulfillment and physical-psychic balance. Nine out of ten clients who call for counseling are asking one of two questions. The first is; "What am I supposed to be doing with my life?" The second question being, "Why do I feel so out of sorts at this time - this time when I should be moving forward in assisting the planet and humanity?" Never before in the 28 years that I have been practicing, have I met so many metaphysicians converging on the same powerful crossroads. It is as if the universe has called and many of us are answering. The clue to our dilemma may be that we must answer as one. Not as diehard individuals attached to our egos, The key is in teamwork. The days of the lone prophet have gone bye-bye with the population boom of the past 2,000 years.

Now we all know prophets are never recognized in their own country, or, time for that matter but, what if we are all the prophets? What a clatter that will produce? It would be hard to stop or stifle a group of prophets raising their voices to the heavens, now. Why can't Bono and Live Aid and Farm Aid be part of the new way or new bible for our time? Who says there is only one book of wisdom amassed for humanity for all time? Today, whether you are reading Chopra, Dyer or Williamson, you are seeing a new generation of wisdom emerging after the Renaissance proceeding WWII. I frequently speak of the "gathering of champions" that is being seen at our time but, realize that in the hearts of many of my students, that they do not see themselves as one of those heroes. With all the incredible tools of communication at our command in this time, does it not seem as if the Creator wants us to speak and write and read to one another? The test, if you wish to use that term loosely, is to bet you can recognize the truth when you hear it. Your truth. Not the truth of your parents' necessarily or your peers but, a truth that resonates deep within you, setting you free.

This is the month we celebrate freedom in the United States. I recently found myself in Charleston, SC, one of the first bastions of freedom to be recognized under the aegis of Francis Marion and many other patriots of the Revolutionary War. As I walked the graveyard of one of Charleston's 4 churches or corners, St. Michael's, I realized that two of the Constitution's signers are buried there. For those of you who have not had the distinctive honor to walk that graveyard, I would recommend it if you ever find yourself in Charleston. Instead of pursuing ghosts, pursue what it feels like to sit upon a vortex of power that called patriots to its cause. This is not a place of the dead. It is a place that draws rabble-rousers as its message is always about freedom. This is not a site of sadness, as Arlington Cemetery is not either, but, a gathering of champions. We have amongst our places of power, spirits and entities ready to tutor us, imbue us with confidence and allow us to feel righteous in the way of all champions. I ask as you find these sites of power that you e-mail me with your thoughts and ideas concerning this new call to arms. Linked arms walking in freedom.

As you are imagining the path being opened up for you to display your own power, make sure there is room for a few others to walk beside you. We are not meant to walk alone. Find yourself partners in this new pursuit of freedom and truth. Discover a way through small groups and ceremony that nations and people in the Earth may unite in more peaceful progress and less rocky roads. It was always the idea that the next step after resurrecting the Round Table, was that the champions would find their way home and create like Tables in their own countries. In that way, the messages of the champions would never die. In this country, we call that Original Table, Congress. With our prayers and affirmations, let us continue to create a path to that sacred Table for all champions who have discovered that a critical Key to Heaven may be in productive teamwork.

It is widely believed now that many of the ancient truths are being uncovered so we may begin again in the New World to broadcast a truth for all humanity. The Tower of Babel has again been destroyed and the tribes released into all nations. I am describing the onslaught of immigration today in the world. We have prophets reminding us that human life on Earth probably began on the continent of Africa. As we hear their call for mercy and brotherhood, be reminded that civilization as we know it depends on the champions within all cultures to become more aware and active. Recognize the "seeding" of light as it is for this time in history. Whether we send our "stars" to places on Earth to light them up for us to see or whether we sing with the angels, the time of the champions is upon us.

Is there a significance to the fact that we have sent an angel - Angelina - before us to Africa to remind us where we have come from? She chose to birth her message of love, her daughter, Shiloh in Namibia. It is a site of great poverty of wisdom and physical lack. The name Shiloh has often been associated with Jesus. There is a message in the Bible given from Jacob to his son, Judah, where he speaks of the Messiah to come using the term "shiloh" or one who will deliver us from the heavy burdens we carry. "Shiloh" means to rest from our travails. Mother Earth has created Angelina in her own image. And now, she has given birth to a champion for the future. It is a benchmark. Shiloh is but one hero amongst many to be born.

In this age of miracles, are we surprised that even Hollywood is bringing back the super-heroes? The messages are all there for anyone to see. Prepare the way. Support all heroes with affirmations of light and love. If you can't be center stage, be on the team behind the one who speaks for the group. Let us save the children, save the planet and save the future through teamwork. After all, the heavens are filled with billions upon billions of stars. They all shine brightly as you approach them. Love that star quality in everyone and you will be on Mother Earth's Team.

May Freedom Ring Loud & Clear,
